Certification

We have read and accept the rules for the 2012 SA Solar Boat Challenge.

The boats entered are completely the work of the students presenting them, apart from some limited adult help to improve their construction skills [as detailed in the rules]

We understand that some photographs of the general racing scene may be taken and used at a later stage for promotional purposes. Please note though that should a picture be required that contains 'close-up' images of an individual or a small group of students, permission would first be sought through the school/organisation.
